Driving Type	Description
Non-excepted interstate	Driver operates or expects to operate a CMV in interstate commerce and driver is subject to, and will meet, the qualification requirements of 49 CFR part 391 (shown above), including medical qualifications. Most CMV operation is "non-excepted interstate". If you qualify , DMV recommends you certify non-excepted interstate.
Excepted interstate	Driver operates or expects to operate a CMV in interstate commerce but, due to exceptions under 49 CFR parts 390.3 (f), 391.2, 391.68 or 398.3, driver is not subject to all or part of the qualification requirements of 49 CFR part 391 (shown above) and is not required by FMCSA to meet federal medical standards. Some examples of excepted interstate operation are school bus operations, transport by government entities, some farm operations, and bee transportation. Driver must still meet medical qualifications for issuance of an Oregon CDL. When operating a CMV in transportation that is non-excepted, you will be restricted to intrastate commerce only.
Non-excepted intrastate	Driver operates or expects to operate a CMV in intrastate commerce only and is not subject to the qualification requirements of 49 CFR part 391 (shown above). Driver must still meet medical qualifications for issuance of an Oregon CDL. You may also operate a vehicle in excepted interstate commerce.

Interstate commerce means trade, traffic, or transportation in the U.S.: (1) Between a place in a State and a place outside of such State (including a place outside the U.S.); (2) Between two places in a State through another State or a place outside the U.S.; or (3) Between two places in a State as part of trade, traffic, or transportation originating or terminating outside the State or the U.S.

Intrastate commerce means any trade, traffic or transportation in any State which is not described in the term "interstate commerce".
